Objectors comments and response

1	We have lived at the bottom of Preston Avenue for over 25 years; the problem is the people living on the estate treating the road as a race track. Cars have crashed into the British Rail fence by driving too fast. Yellow lines will not help but a speed ramp would calm the situation.	Kent County Council are the Highway Authority that install traffic calming schemes not Swale Borough Council.
2	At present the traffic coming from Bramley Avenue does tend to slow down at the corner.	The proposals will improve visibility and vehicle movements at this location.
